FRENCH SQUADRON SAILS FOR TURKEY

Said To Have Been Ordered to Enforce the French Claims Against the Sultan.

Paris, Oct. 31.—An official note issued today states that orders were issued to detach a division of the Mediterranean squadron for a special mission. Sealed orders, it is announced have been handed Admiral Caillaud who will command the division. The newspapers which had secured previous information regarding the movement announced this morning that the French warships were to go to Turkey to enforce the French claims against that country.

GERMANY MUST IMPORT GRAIN

Estimates at Berlin Show a Shortage of 1,837,560 Tons of Wheat Over Last Year's Crop.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—The Getteldecker, an agricultural paper, from replies to 6,000 inquiries, calculates that Germany's yield of wheat is 2,470,000 tons; rye, 8,145,500 tons; summer barley, 3,021,360 tons; and oats, 7,105,000 tons.

As compared with the yield of 1900, this indicates a small increase in oats and barley and a decrease of 1,837,560 tons in wheat and 405,200 tons in rye.
The paper calculates that Germany will have to import during the current year 3,000,000 tons of wheat and 1,000,000 tons of rye.

MISS MAY IRWIN WILL ACT NO MORE

Says It Is Her Purpose to Quit the Stage and Enjoy Her Long-Sought Rest.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 31.—May Irwin is about to retire from the stage, and the present is her last season. This is the first public announcement of an intention that has been in her mind for over a year. In her dressing room at the Academy, while the preparations were in progress for the third act of "Madge Smith," she said: "I would have retired a year ago but for my contracts. A number still remain to be completed and then I shall be free. I shall certainly, so far as human purpose can go, never act again after the present season."

"I have been on the stage ever since I was 11 years old and this is why many persons think I am older than I really am. I have passed through an enormous amount of hard work and would like to enjoy a rest for the remainder of my life."

NEW LIGHT ON BATTLE OF SANTIAGO; WON BY BROOKLYN AND OREGON

Evidence Before the Court of Inquiry Shows That These Two Warships Are the Only Vessels Entitled to Credit for the Victory.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—The evidence at the Scley court during the last fortnight and practically during the last week has given an entirely new view of the battle of Santiago. If it is accepted as true it will utterly change the account of the battle which history would otherwise have given of it and will prove that for three years the public has remained in ignorance of how the battle was won.

Heretofore it has been believed that the battle was fought and won by the North Atlantic squadron and flying squadron. If the testimony of the last fortnight is true it was practically fought and won by the Brooklyn and Oregon alone, except for such slight assistance as the Texas was able to offer.

New Version of Battle
According to this version of the battle when the Spanish ships came out the Americans moved forward to meet them in accordance with the prearranged plan, with the design of sinking them at the mouth of the harbor as they attempted to escape. The plan proved a failure, according to this recent testimony. The whole fire of the squadron was concentrated on the Maria Teresa and it was destroyed.

The other Spanish ships got safely away though some of them had been struck by the American shells, and Cervara's fleet, minus the Maria Teresa, started on its way for life. The Spaniards were faster than the Americans. They had a fleet mostly made up of swift cruisers while that of the United States was mostly made up of slow battleships. Once they got away from the American fire, therefore, it was to be assumed that they could escape altogether.

Spaniards Near to Escape
As a matter of fact, according to testimony, this is almost what did occur.

AVOID THE FAMOUS HORSESHOE CURVE

Pennsylvania Road Will Dig a Seven-Mile Tunnel—Cost Will Run Into the Millions.

Altoona, Pa., Oct. 31.—The most colossal enterprise yet undertaken in modern American railroad building is to sacrifice the great horseshoe curve of the Pennsylvania railway on its main line along the Alleghany mountains, five miles west of here, by constructing an underground tunnel seven miles in length. It will only be surpassed in distance by the famous St. Gothard hole between the Alps in Switzerland.

The tunnel will begin at a point a few rods below the curve and come out of the mountain a short distance beyond Cresson a summer resort.

RAILWAY FIREMAN A GENUINE HERO

Thomas Shane Climbs to Pilot of Engine and Tosses Child from Track, Saving Its Life.

Goshen, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Thomas Shane, a locomotive fireman, performed a deed today that marks him as a hero. He was firing on the south-bound milk train which left Sidney at 10:15, and just as it had got fairly under way he saw Mildred Elliott, a 3-year-old girl standing on the track. He called to Engineer Edward De Witt, but the train was on a down grade and could not stop. Shane threw open the cab door and went along the narrow running board of the locomotive, and there made a leap to the pilot. He struck the edge and slid to the pilot nose, and hanging on by an iron bolt, swept the child from the roadbed. She was only slightly bruised.

PLAN FOR A BIG CHEESE MARKET

Milwaukee Business Men Anxious to Make This City the Center of That Trade.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 31.—Business men of Milwaukee are planning a cheese market similar to the butter market at Elgin. The scheme proposed is to centralize the cheese trade of the state here and establish a cheese board, which shall fix prices for the cheese product of the country, just as the market at Elgin is the basis for butter prices. Secretary Whitney of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association took the matter up soon after he was elected to office and has been pushing it since. He has convinced the members of the association, Citizens' League and Produce exchange of the many advantages which will accrue from the adoption of the plan, and these associations will do all they can to bring it about. The matter will be brought formally to the attention of the cheesemakers of the state at their meeting which will be held here in January.

CROWE'S LETTERS SAID TO BE TRUE

Handwriting Expert Makes a Favorable Report to the Omaha Chief of Police.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 31.—Chief Donahue today received assurance from Chicago handwriting experts of many years' experience and who are connected with a large detective agency that the letters received by the chief from Pat Crowe are genuine. The letters were sent to him for verification with specimens of Crowe's handwriting in the archives of the detective agency. The letters were received Oct. 19 and 21 and named the conditions on which the writer offered to surrender to the chief of police. The chief today acknowledged that he had abandoned the idea that Crowe would give himself up saying he thought Crowe would have been here before this time if he was coming in.

FIERCE BREAD RIOTS IN MEXICO; MONOPOLIES CORNER ALL THE CORN

Advance Price 100 Per Cent—Poor Unable to Buy, and on Verge of Starvation Make an Attack.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 31.—News reached this city today of a bread riot in the town of Parangueo, Michoacan, Mexico, on Oct. 28, in which twenty people are wounded, many of whom will die.

The riot was the result of a corn famine which has prevailed in that part of Mexico for months, and the action of monopolists in advancing the price to a figure that prevented the poor classes purchasing enough for their needs.

Some time ago the Mexican government, on account of the famine, removed the duty on corn from the United States, and shipments from the states for a time served to relieve the situation. Speculators, however, got hold of all the cereal shipped into the district and at once advanced the price 100 per cent. The people stood this until driven to the verge of starvation and then organized for a raid on the grain warehouses of the monopolists.

FIRE DESTROYS A WHOLE BLOCK

Twenty Buildings Burned and Two Hundred People Are Homeless.

BLAZE IN CHICAGO

Factory Building Swept Out of Sight by Fierce Wind-Fed Flames.

FIREMEN PUT IN PERIL

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Fire started in the top floor of a woodworker's factory at 129 North Union street at 5 o'clock p. m., which within two hours consumed twenty buildings, made 200 people homeless and caused a financial loss of about $200,000. It was in many respects the most spectacular fire that has visited the city since the burning of the city, and by its peculiar situation and the character of the buildings which fed its swift fury, and the time at which it occurred, furnished a spectacle to at least 20,000 people. In spite of the hairbreadth escapes of scores of people, the imminent danger from falling walls and the almost magic speed of the fire's spread, nobody was seriously hurt.

Firemen in Peril
The firemen of companies 42 and 3, led by Captains Joseph McCormick and Nicholas J. Powers, were caught in the middle of Union street, just north of Kinzie, as the fire, picked up by the high west wind, swept the flames across the street. Their clothes were literally burned off their backs; they did not need the warning about of Marshal Campton to start them on a mad rush for their lives. The hose they had been holding on the burning factory shriveled and burned even as they dropped it, and they had hardly reached places of safety toward Milwaukee avenue before the row of frame buildings on the east side of Union street was wreathed and plumed with fire and smoke. Assistant Chief Campton had already turned in a 4-11 alarm, which was followed by special calls. To the north of the four-story building in which the fire started the three-story home of the Chicago Commons, a brick house vacated some months ago, was already in flames.

Fire Spreads Rapidly
Opposite the original fire half a dozen frame and sheet-iron store and flat houses were flaming like pitch torches; to the south on the west side of Union street, and immediately adjoining the main fire, five two-story frame buildings, all occupied by poor families, began to blaze, and in ten minutes the streets on all sides were littered with household goods dragged forth by the unfortunates whose homes were doomed.

Many Families Homeless
Neither the dense smoke, nor the danger from the toppling walls could drive away the men and women who were being made homeless by the travel of the flames through the square of sorry looking dwellings. They gathered in little groups on the corners or in the middle of the block and watched the fire eat away the walls that had sheltered them. Some had rescued a pitiful few of their shabby belongings, and to these they clung in desperation. The shifting clouds of smoke swept over and half smothered them; firemen overturned them by the dozen; policemen tried to drive them to more comfortable quarters, but all to no purpose. They stood their ground and saw the bricks and timbers crumble and fall and the block merge into one great mass of debris.

Facts About the Fire
Buildings destroyed, 20; families homeless, 100; persons injured, 9; missing, 1; blocks of houses burned, 4; property loss, $200,000.

FURROWS ON THE FARM.

The farmer who feeds his fodder in "any old way," will have a sea of grief when he comes to haul out the manure caused by feeding it in the same "old way." It will be the same old way of having that same old tired feeling while hauling the manure. When it is hauled out it will have to be plowed under and pulled up by the cultivator shovels all through the cultivating season.

"The boy's stay on the farm" will depend very much on the staying qualities of the boy and the privileges provided for those who stay. No one ought to expect a boy to stay where there is not much chance for staying. The boy that is a "stayer" will stay on the farm and he will do well. Some boys will stay there because they can't get off.

Now is the time to select a boar and the selection should be made carefully, and with an eye to improvement, in some way, of the herd. A grade with good qualities will transmit but few good qualities to his offspring, hence, he should not be selected.

In some parts of the east, there are no rural districts. Farmers and truckers live in town, as it were. The next generation, and perhaps the next decade, will see many localities in the west the same way. The electric railway, telephone, rural free delivery and many like civilizing influences will bring this about. "Man's best occupation" will soon have all the advantages of city as well as of farm life. Improved methods of farming ought to come with other improvements.

A sea of fodder shocks stand waiting for their final disposition. Some of them will be tipped over, shucked out and the stover re-shocked in the old fashioned way. There is a great waste in this method. It would do well to study some of the modern methods of extracting the corn and working up the stover in a more satisfactory manner.

The man who leaves his plow sticking in the ground while he goes to dinner will sooner or later find his Waterloo. When out of use the plow should be out of the ground, and if it has to be in at all, it should be in the tool house. Take good care of the plows, for prices have advanced and the next plow may cost more.

"The rose, by any other name smells just as sweet." The hog by any other name will be a hog for all that, but when prices are away up he is respected. The more a hog is worth the more respect is paid to him.

A potato grower living not more than a thousand miles from a good potato market says the way he feels the bugs is peculiar to himself so far as he is able to ascertain. He plants a patch of potatoes early especially for the bugs and later he plants the main crop some distance from the first planting. He claims that the bugs that live over the winter will fly early in the spring until they find potatoes and they will fly no longer. When the distance is too far for them to walk they will not find the main field. This sounds like a nice story, but the bug is very deceptive some years and he seems to be plentiful enough to find all the potato fields in the country and can do them a great deal of damage when found.

"Hauling manure is not altogether a reasonable business. It may 'well' lay claim to all seasons as its own. The manure is a crop that is ripe for hauling almost any time. The hauler is not always ripe when he should be for engaging in the work."

It is lamentable that pumpkins are so small this year where the drouth got in its work. It is agreeable to note that the size of the pies are the same, but since one has time to think about it there are fewer of them. The cow gives as much milk and the hens do their part in making good pumpkin pies, but the pumpkin itself is a little shy. Pumpkin pie is all right providing there is enough of it and not too many fellows to one pie.

Who has had anything to do with candles and candle sticks that did not learn to despise the candle that was two sizes too small for the stick and tite about, causing the candle grease to run all over everything. In some places candles are used yet in place of lamps to carry about. To make them fit the stick dip them in warm water and press them into it. The substance from which the candle is made is rendered soft and spreads out so as to fill the receptacle. A candle will not explode, but it will fire a building if not given proper attention.

When a man sells all his sugar he has to buy more sugar if he remains in the sugar business. When the farmer sells farm fertility in the shape of farm products he has to get some more plant food in some manner if he expects to remain in business long at the old stand. Many a man has gone out of business because he did not keep stocked up with a good supply of the thing most needed in his business.

There is nothing lost by having a lot of "bat boards" on the husking wagon this year. Let not a single ear of corn be thrown over to be wasted. It will be cheaper to provide them in abundance than to throw over a bushel of corn per day. The busy husker does not hear the "bang" of every ear he husks.

The folks around our home are all lovers of flowers. The head of the family has never been an enthusiastic about them as he might have been. Recently he has been aroused along this line and has been paying a great deal of attention to and caring for flowers of all kinds. The conservatory in the house is well filled with all kinds of plants that will do well indoors. Scores of pots contain bulbs of the tulip, crocus, narcissus, hyacinth, calla and other winter blooming plants, to say nothing of the sea of foliage plants and various kinds of flowers together with ferns, palms, etc. There is a pleasure in working with flowers that can be obtained in no other way.—Wisconsin Farmer.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Miss Margaret Robinson, who is a celebrated stage beauty, has been selected by Mr. H. Reeves-Smith for his leading lady this season. Miss Robinson is a Canadian girl who has spent most of her life in the States. She made her debut when quite a young girl at Daly's theater, and has played leading parts with such prominent people as Sol Smith Russell and Wm. H. Crane. Miss Robinson comes from a family of clerical people and missionaries who

The Druggist Knows It is the Best.

"After having a mishap, I suffered with pain in my left side and a lingering cough which grew worse and worse," writes Mrs. Cora Brooks, of Marlin, Franklin County, Georgia. "Last spring I got past doing anything and my husband went to the drug store and called for Wine of C—, and the merchant recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, so he bought one bottle. I began to take it as directed in the pamphlet wrapped around the bottle. The book said if the disease was complicated with cough to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' alternately, and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, on rising every morning. Mr. Brooks went back to the drug store and got the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I took it as directed. The cough left me at once and I began to get better so rapidly my husband was astonished at my improvement. I am now able to work on the farm and also do the washing for two families."

make their boast that they have never seen the inside of a theater. Mr. Reeves-Smith brings his fine company to Janesville Saturday, Nov. 2, in "A Brace of Partridges," which was so phenomenally successful in London and at Madison Square Theater in New York.

Mr. William S. Gill, interpreting the title role in Shipman Brothers' elaborate production of Mark Twain's greatest effort, "Pudd'nhead Wilson," has been the surprise of the year in the theatrical world. The rare grace and skill he exercises in his characterization of this great part has called forth the highest praise from all sources. The production is the most completely equipped traveling organization on the road today. Every stick of scenery and every property used in the play is carried by the company. With all its elaborate wealth of detail the play will be given an early presentation in this city, for one night only, and inasmuch as the large cities only have been visited, that fact that the company is to appear here should insure them a most gratifying welcome.

Joe W. Spears' comedians, introducing the famous original Two American Macs and the clever little sou-brette, Mazie Trumbull, and a large company of dancers, singers, comedians and pretty girls, will present the new musical extravaganza, "The Irish Pawnbrokers," at the Myers Grand tonight. The skit is a humorous satire of the life of the pawnbrokers and abounds in many amusing complications, laughable situations and humorous dialogue. The specialties are of a high order and very numerous, adequate scenery, novel electrical effects and handsome costumes have been supplied by Manager Spears. The music which is to be a strong feature, is all new, having been culled from the most recent New York successes.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

Doubleday, Page & Co. announce that their magazine, Country Life in America, has found a welcome of unexpected proportions and enthusiasm. The published announcement has led to orders for more than the first edition and of advanced subscriptions from would be readers in unexpected numbers. One prominent gentleman in New York so approved of the idea as told in a newspaper that he sent fifteen subscriptions for himself and friends weeks before he could possibly receive the first issue. Not only does the idea of Country Life in America appeal to all who love the country but the name of the editor, L. H. Bailey, of Cornell, gives solid assurance that the magazine will be popular, interesting, beautiful and of high standard. Certainly no more, superbly illustrated magazine has ever been printed.

The American publishers of "Kim" have put their third edition to press within the third week of publication. The English publishers have not done quite so well in so far as editions are concerned, though the first one of 50,000 now is so nearly exhausted that a second printing is now under way. The burst of spontaneous approval which has accompanied the publication of "Kim" fairly places Mr. Kipling's fame at its greatest height. Perhaps never before have there been so many readers of Kipling, and certainly never so many new translations. Almost coincident with the publication of "Kim" was the appearance, for the first time, of the "Plain Tales From the Hills" in a Malaysian language.

"Princess Puck," Una L. Silberrad's new novel, which Doubleday, Page & Co. publish about November 1st, takes its title from the nickname of the young girl, whose character is said to be as unique as her name. We are led to believe it is not at all like "A Lady of Dreams," lacking much of the somber qualities of the latter and dealing with people of a happier station in life. But, whatever it is, much is to be expected of an author whose success of last year led the London Bookman to announce "an unmistakable genius," whose book was "the most interesting and memorable novel of 1900."

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS BANQUET

The teachers of the Congregational church Bible school met together last evening for a social time and an informal conference and the result was that three hours were spent delightfully and profitably. The supper which was served at 6 o'clock was an elegant one. It was a picnic supper but Mrs. David W. Holmes and Mrs. Frank H. Farnsworth had it in charge. The supper hour was a most enjoyable one, being one of general sociability.

After supper, the Sunday school conference was held. H. J. Cunningham, the superintendent presiding. Rev. R. C. Denison gave a practical talk in which he urged the teachers to get a close personal hold on their scholars. He is in favor of grading the Sunday school work according to a regular progressive course of study, such as is used in the day schools, but until this is done he urged the teachers to pay more attention to using the Bible as the text book.

After Rev. Denison's talk many of the teachers took part in the general discussion and many helpful suggestions were made. Something of the interest taken by teachers in their work was evidenced by the fact that only one of the teachers who were in the city last evening was absent from the conference. A few are out of town on business or pleasure but there were thirty-five Sunday school teachers present at last evening's gathering.

BUILT A FENCE ACROSS THE ALLEY

Charles E. Jenkins yesterday constructed a fence across the alley in the rear of his store on South Main street. The alley runs from Milwaukee to Court streets and has been much used in the past for almost as many purposes as a street.

It is understood that Mr. Jenkins' reason for closing the alley was that he did not wish his neighbors to have the use of it as a thoroughfare. It seems that Mr. Jenkins had rented his store to the Blatz Brewing Co. of Milwaukee for saloon purposes at a good rental. The merchants on both sides of Mr. Jenkins' store objected to having a saloon in their midst and circulated a petition among property owners asking the council to refuse to grant a license to the brewing company. On this account the deal for the rent of the store fell through. Mr. Jenkins decided that his neighbors objected to his renting his store without their permission he did not want them to use his alley for any purpose so built a fence across his property.

Euchre Club Entertained. Members of the Ladies' Afternoon Euchre Club were charmingly entertained by Mrs. O. Sutherland this afternoon, at her pleasant home, 10 East street north. There are about twenty ladies in the club and they spent the afternoon delightfully at the popular amusement of card playing. At the conclusion of the games, a delicious supper was served faultlessly. Mrs. Sutherland is a gracious hostess who thoroughly understands the art of entertaining and this afternoon's company was one of the most pleasant ones ever given at her home.

Appendicitis does not result from hard studies lodged in the vermiform appendix. The trouble is caused by a pathological condition of either stomach, bowels or liver, or of all. The sure way to escape it is to keep all the organs in perfect health by regularly taking Dr. Crane's Quaker Tonic Tablets. Cost fifty cents.

Protest From Leyden Farmers.

Leyden, Wis., Oct. 31, 1901.—It seems to us that the tobacco buyers are putting a dark shade on the condition of the 1901 crop of tobacco for their own interest; and we wish to state something to the contrary regarding the article in The Janesville Gazette of Oct. 24, headed "Leaf Tobacco Curing Black." We wish to state the tobacco grown in this vicinity is not curing black, but is bright, and has a good color, and is as good as any year.

TO PROVIDE HOME FOR THE ORPHANS

RATHBONE SISTERS HAVE UNDERTAKEN A GOOD WORK.

Provision to be made for the children of Knights of Pythias Members Who Have Become Homeless—Want Also to Be Part of the K. of P. Order.

To provide a home for the orphaned and homeless children of the Knights of Pythias of Wisconsin the Rathbone Sisters have undertaken a piece of work which they know will tax all their resources for some time to come, but which they believe they can carry through to a successful issue. Their plan is, in short, to establish and maintain a home where the children of members of the order who have lost one or both parents or who have otherwise become homeless shall be cared for and educated. Incidental to the carrying out of this plan they hope to give more direction to their own work and to bring about not only a closer sympathy between the sisters, mothers, wives and daughters of Knights, who are members of the order, but also place themselves in closer touch with the order of Knights of Pythias itself.

Have No Side Ranks Today the Knights of Pythias have no side ranks or allied branches. The Rathbone Sisters, while composed of relatives of the Knights, is an entirely distinct and separate organization, making its own laws, controlling its own funds and in every way directing its own career. It is the hope of the members that the next session of the supreme council will bring about changes which will enable the Rathbone Sisters to become an integral part of the order, or at least secure for them the co-operation of the Knights in their movement to establish a home such as is proposed.

Pythian Children's day was established two years ago and is now observed by all the state temples of the Rathbones, of which there are fifteen in Wisconsin. Each child contributes annually five cents to the fund for the home, the contribution being made some time during the celebration of the Pythian Children's day festivities. By this means the children themselves are interested in the work and carried along with an increasing fervor until they reach the age when they are eligible either for the Knights or the Rathbone sisterhood.

Give Out Talent Money It is not proposed that he fund will be established from these contributions merely. Voluntary subscriptions also are made and later new ways of adding to the fund will be devised. In Indiana, the only other state in which such a movement has been started, the sisters have raised $7,000 in three years. One of the plans proposed in this state is that at the next session of the sisters of the state the temples will give out "talent" money to such members as will undertake to invest it. It is also intended to ask the Knights if they will set aside a sum annually either by voting a portion of their fund or by increasing the per capita tax for the benefit of the proposed home.

No specific plans as to the home have been made. The Knights are talking of a home for dependent members but it may be that at the outset the Rathbone Sisters will ask permission to endow a portion of it for the children, establishing a separate home later as their finances permit it. All that, however, is in the future. The main object now is to raise money.

LIBRARY PLAN HAS BEEN AGREED ON

Present Indications are That the Contract For Building Will Not Be Let Before Spring.

According to present indications, the contract for the new library building will not be let until late in the winter or early next spring. So far as the library board is concerned everything is in readiness, the plans have been agreed upon and the members are anxious to sign the contract and let the work be commenced.

The executors of the F. S. Eldred estate are in perfect harmony with the library board and were willing to sign the contract but Judge J. W. Sale has advised them not to do so on the grounds that Mr. Eldred's will is still in probate and that contingencies might arise whereby there would not be enough money, after the legacies which precede the library bequest and claims against the estate are paid, to meet the library bequest. This hardly seems probable as the personal estate is about treble the amount of these legacies and claims, but still such a legal possibility exists.

This makes the executors powerless to act until the final settlement of the estate, which will probably not take place until late in January. Under the existing circumstances the library board does not feel like taking any risks by proceeding with the work before the Eldred bequest is available. Consequently matters are at a standstill.

The library board and executors of the Eldred estate have adopted the original plans drawn by Architect Jennings with a few modifications and with the understanding that on the second floor such work as cannot be done within the appropriation is to be left unfinished at present.

The members of the board regret the delay particularly because money could have been saved by letting the contract this fall on a large share of the work, such as window sashes, doors, etc., could have been done during the winter when carpenter work is slack.

Yesterday afternoon the reach on the lumber wagon which is being used while the West Side hook and ladder wagon is being painted, broke just as Driver Champion was turning from West Milwaukee street onto North High street. The horses with the front wheels went on up the street and left the wagon box and hind wheel with the ladder and hose in the middle of the street. The weight of the hose and ladders wrecked the box and left it in bad shape. Driver Champion was given quite a tumble but jumped up and soon caught his team.

There will be a special meeting of the Woman's Foreign society of the First M. E. church in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. As this will be the last meeting before the district convention which meets here next week, all members and committees are urged to bear it in mind and be present.

LITTLE VIOLATION OF HUNTING LAW

Hunters Being Carefully Watched by Game Wardens—Canvas Backs Are Scarce.

At least one hunter at Lake Koshkonong will get very small returns for his shipments of canvas back to New York. The state game warden at Lansing, Mich., has notified the warden of this state that he had seized two shipments of canvas back containing five barrels and a box sent from Milton Junction, Wis., and had disposed of the same. The game was seized in transit, the law giving the game warden of any state through which the game is shipped to its destination from a state where shipping is unlawful, the right to seize and sell it.

There were at least 250 ducks in the five barrels and at $1.50 each brings their value up to $375.00. Shipping game from this state to New York is getting to be an unprofitable business as it is almost certain to be picked up by some warden along the line if it gets away from the wardens, in this state.

So far this year there has been but very little violation of the hunting laws on Lake Koshkonong. The law allowing the hunters to scull on their decoys at a reasonable distance from shore instead of building blinds has not been violated to any extent consequently there has been no arrests. Most of the hunters and residents about the lake are pretty well satisfied that the feed for canvas back and other open water ducks is about gone. They come into the lake one night and the next night get up and leave which was an unheard of thing up to three years ago. Now when the birds are disturbed in the middle of the lake they jump up and leave, before they would fly a short distance and settle down again and go to feeding. As there is now but very little feed in the lake to keep them they jump up and skip out.

So far this fall there has not been over three days when the hunters have killed any number of canvas back.

MAY GIVE UP THE PENSION PLAN

St. Paul Road Decides to Inaugurate an Accident and Life Insurance for Employees.

After nearly a year's consideration it is deemed probable that the plan to pension employees of the Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will be abandoned and an accident and death insurance system substituted. When the idea of pensioning the 15,000 or 20,000 employees of the road was conceived, it was submitted to the men; but did not meet their approval. The plan had no provision for payments in cases of accidents except that employees would be placed on the pension list if totally incapacitated by accident or otherwise. [This was one of the strongest objections to the original plan.] To overcome this it is now proposed to abandon the pension plan and substitute death and accident insurance.

JURY TRIAL IN THE DUNNIGAN CASE

A jury trial is being held in the county court today to determine the sanity of Mrs. Mary Dunnigan, of Edgerton. She was examined by a commission of doctors who pronounced her insane. She appealed from this decision and demanded a jury trial. The case was called this morning and Henry Rogers, J. B. Dearborn, David Barless, A. C. Munger and A. C. Thorpe selected as the jury.

District Attorney Jackson appears for the state and L. E. Gettle of Edgerton for Mrs. Dunnigan. Dr. McChesney of Edgerton was the first witness sworn and testified that he considered her insane and gave his reasons for so thinking. Mrs. Thomas Ellingson was worn for the state and told of the many insane things she had seen Mrs. Dunnigan, who is a neighbor of hers, do. [There are about twenty witnesses in all and it will take at least a day longer to finish the trial.

Frieman-Glass Wedding.

From the portals of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church last evening, two well-known young people started out together as life companions. The ceremony which made them husband and wife having been solemnized in the sacred edifice at 7 o'clock by Rev. Paul F. Werth. The bride was Miss Bertha Frieman, and by last evening's ceremony she became the happy wife of Charles Glass. The exchange of marriage vows was witnessed by a large company of relatives and friends.

After the beautiful church service, a large reception was tendered the couple at the bride's home, 206 Western avenue. An elegant wedding supper was served, and the night was spent in merry making. The bride is a most estimable young lady, and the groom is a trusted employee at the Janesville Barb Wire works. He and his bride have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Inspect Buildings and Bridges

The party also looked over the site of the proposed passenger station and an effort will be made to get it under way this fall to have it ready for spring business.

Superintendent Eldredge accompanied the party over the Mineral Point and Prairie du Chien divisions.

NIGHT OF SPOOKS CLOSE AT HAND

Small Boy in His Element and the Policeman in Misery—Nothing Special on Tonight.

The night of spooks and mystery is at hand. It is Halloween, the night of misery for the policeman and of joy for the small boy. While it is the honest intention of the police force to allow no pranks which go beyond the mere desire for fun and which cause damage to personal property, still the eye of the law is not omnipotent and it is well for the good people of the city to take warning, lock their woodshed doors, put new hinges on their gates and strengthen their gateposts.

This is the only country in which the evening is set aside as one in which to play various tricks and have a good time. Here for many years it has been devoted to jokes and pranks, but the attraction is waning and each year less attention is paid to it. In this city the vigilance of the police has discouraged the sort of fun which expresses itself in damaging the property of others and the boys have learned that. Halloween will not prevent them from punishment if they go too far. They should bear this in mind tonight and go slow.

The only special observance of the night will be the Halloween dancing party given by the Caledonian society in the Armory. In Scotland this evening is one of a more serious nature than any other country and it is always treated as though it was the Sabbath. The Scotch people think that this day was set aside when everything should be looked at seriously and all fun should be laid aside.

The Scotch-Americans, however have abandoned the serious observance of their native country for the merrier celebration of their adopted land and each year the Caledonian society and its friends spend Halloween in dancing and mirth.

A DAILY NUISANCE.

A Simple Remedy Which Will Interest Catarrh Sufferers.

In its earlier stages catarrh is more of a nuisance than a menace to the general health, but sooner or later, the disease extends to the throat, bronchial tubes and even to the stomach and intestines.

Catarrh is essentially a disease of the mucous membrane, the local symptoms being a profuse discharge of mucous, stoppage of the nostrils, irritation in throat, causing coughing, sneezing, gagging and frequent clearings of throat and head.

The usual treatment by local dou-ches, snuffs, salves, etc., often gives temporary relief, but anything like a cure can only be obtained by a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood and the disappearance of the inflammation from the mucous surfaces.

A new remedy which meets these requirements and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

These tablets act upon the blood and mucous membranes only. They can hardly be called a secret patent medicine as they are composed of such valuable remedies as Sanguinaria, Hydrastin, Eucalyptol, and similar cleansing antiseptics which cure by eliminating from the blood and mucous surfaces the catarrhal poison.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large pleasant tasting lozenges, taken internally, allowing them to dissolve slowly in the mouth, in this way they reach the throat, fauces and the entire alimentary canal.

If desired they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche in addition to the internal use, but it is not at all necessary to use a douche; a few of them dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient.
However, when there is much stoppage of the nose, a douche made from these tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use internally of these tablets will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche.

Dr. Bement states "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taking the place of the old plan of douching, and local application, and further says that probably the best and certainly the safest remedy at present on the market is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient remedies for catarrh are contained in this tablet."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at fifty cents for full sized packages. Ask your druggist and if he is honest he will tell you there is no safer, more palatable, more efficient and convenient remedy on the market.

MISS W. CHILDS-BLACKBURN,
Secretary Rock Island Literary and Art

With the close confinement at my desk brought on nervous prostration, so much so that for a year I doctored continually. I tried different remedies which only succeeded in poisoning my system, and my stomach refused food. A neighbor who had suffered with ovarian troubles and was perfectly cured, called my attention to your Vegetable Compound, and I made up my mind to give it a two months' fair trial. However, before one month had passed I was like a new woman, and after six weeks faithful use of the Compound I was in perfect health. It certainly is of great benefit to women, and I wish every poor suffering woman could have a chance to try it. Yours very truly,

FATAL RAILWAY COLLISION.

One Killed and Seven Seriously Injured in Pennsylvania.

Washington, Pa., Oct. 31.—Local passenger train No. 101, on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, collided with a light engine carrying workmen on their way to clear a freight wreck near Vance Station, Pa., killing one and injuring seven others, all employees of the railroad company. The dead man is Michael Hahn, car inspector. Injured: Conductor Ball, S. F. Gore, engineer; A. Spangler, bridge supervisor; James Baggan, division supervisor; Michael Padden, supervisor's clerk; M. Devaugh, freight agent; Gordon Devaugh. The injured were brought to Washington hospital. It is feared that Baggan, Padden and Spangler will die.

Will Be Given Third Trial.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 31.—A Helena (Mont.) special to the Dispatch says: "Joseph Shaffer, twice tried and twice convicted of murder in the first degree, has been granted a new trial by the supreme court. Four years ago Shaffer killed a man named Hawkins in Butte. In the first trial the jury found him guilty and he was sentenced to pay the extreme penalty. He was granted a new trial on a technicality. The second trial resulted in a verdict of murder in the first degree and he was again sentenced to death. The case was appealed to the supreme court and an opinion just sent down favors the condemned man because an error was made by the lower court in instructing the jury."

Good News for Goldseekers.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 31.—Capt. L. N. Johnson of the schooner Siglin, which has just returned from Nome, brings news that all the Siberian peninsula extending into Behring sea and the Arctic, embracing about 68,000 square miles, will be thrown open to public mining operations next spring. The information was imparted to him by Count Podhoraki and Commissioner Evanoff of the Russian government bureau of topography. A proclamation opening the country will be issued about next April. A few prospectors who say they have penetrated back from the coast say there are just as good prospects as in the Seward peninsula, on which is Cape Nome.

Seek Statehood for Porto Rico.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The visit to the United States of the Porto Rican delegation of business men, who spent the day in Chicago, has a greater significance than has hitherto appeared. Instead of coming to inspect the commercial methods of this country, and incidentally to go on a little junketing trip to the Pan-American exposition, the Porto Ricans have come to pave the way for the admission of their island, first as an organized territory, then as a state.

Engine Wrecks on Auto.

Westbury, L. I., Oct. 31.—In a collision here between a motor vehicle run by Henry Fournier, the famous French chauffeur, and a wildcat engine on the Long Island railroad, six persons were injured, three of them being severely hurt. The injured are: A. G. Batchelder, New York; Henry I. Everall, Manhattan; Henri Fournier, Manhattan; H. B. Fullerton, agent of the passenger department of the Long Island railroad; J. H. Gerrie, New York; Arthur Lewis, Manhattan.

Russian Fugitive Arrested.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 31.—Simon Ivanow Grin, alias Valfine Semashka, has been arrested at Pasadena by Deputy United States Marshal McCulloch on the charge of embezzlement preferred by Paul Kosakewitch, Russian consul at San Francisco. Grin was employed in the government bank at Rostov, Russia, up to March 6, 1901, at which time he disappeared. Investigation was made of his accounts and an alleged shortage of $12,000 was discovered.

On Trail of Filipino Chief.

Manila, Oct. 31.—Advices from Cebu, capital of the island of Samar, say General Smith has reliable information regarding the whereabouts of the insurgent leader, Lukban, who is being hard pressed. Small skirmishes take place daily. Cebu was under fire all day. General Smith expects to clear the island of insurgents by Christmas.

NICARAGUA ROUTE FAVORITE

Report of the Canal Commission Practically Completed.

NO OFFER MADE BY HUTIN.

Panama Company's Agent Fails to Make a Proposition—New Treaty with Great Britain Said at State Department to Be Satisfactory.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—Admiral Walker had a conference with the President, and it is announced that the report of the isthmian canal commission will be ready before the meeting of congress. The report is practically finished now. It has been held back to allow Hutin, president of the new Panama canal company, to submit definite propositions for the transfer of that canal to this government.

The Panama canal people have for two years been talking about selling their interests to the United States, but the company has made no definite proposition. A meeting was held in New York several days ago and it was understood that after that meeting Hutin would be able to make a definite proposition. He has returned to Washington without authority to do so. The commission will not wait longer. The report will be finished and made public. It will recommend the Nicaragua route as did the preliminary report issued about a year ago. The Panama Canal company would sell but it wants to make a good sale. It is not ready to make a sacrifice. The new treaty with Great Britain is said at the state department to be perfectly satisfactory, as it covers all the objections raised against the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. Senators who have talked with Secretary Hay and learned the scope of the new treaty are satisfied that it will be promptly ratified by the senate early in the session, and clear the way for legislative action on the canal bill. Those who had charge of the Nicaragua canal bill before the last congress see no occasion for changing the bill before re-introducing it in the Fifty-eighth Congress. The President will make an urgent recommendation for such legislation and it is the one subject of legislation on which there seems to be little difference of opinion. It is barely possible that Hutin and his company will at last make some definite proposition for the sale of the Panama canal, when they realize that this government cannot longer be held back from its plan to construct an isthmian canal. When the congress passes a canal bill by the Nicaragua route, the Panama canal will have less value than it now has. But up to the present time the Panama company has at all appearances been simply playing for delay.

A WONDERFUL MECHANISM.

The human body in its intricate construction is many times more wonderful than anything wrought by human hands. Of the various organs of the body the liver is the largest and the seat of the majority of the ills that afflict mankind. It is easily affected by changes of the weather, nervous strain and over-eating. The great office of the liver is to secrete bile, a fluid of a yellow-green color, soapy nature, very bitter and of peculiar odor. When for any cause the common duct that carries the bile from the liver is clogged, the liver becomes deranged and is thus supercharged with bile causing the surplus bile to pass into the stomach. This causes headache, nausea, yellow complexion, constipation, indigestion, sourer breath, dry mouth, dizziness, highly colored urine, sour stomach, and a loss of food and other symptoms of bile poisoning commonly called biliousness. To keep the liver healthy and in a normal condition is necessary to proper health and activity. Just the exact amount of bile should be secreted and properly used as designed by nature and to do this successfully and regularly no better remedy can be found than Dr. Arnold's Nuro Family Tea. The reasons for the action of Dr. Arnold's Nuro Family Tea are plain, because it removes all obstacles and congestions, stimulates and strengthens the liver to a healthy and normal condition and if the patient persists in its use, the liver, which is the balance wheel of the system, becomes strong, healthy and permanently active. British Schooner John Cabot Believed to Have Foundered.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 31.—The British schooner John Cabot sailed from Ros Blanche, N. F., for North Sydney on Oct. 21, and since that date nothing has been heard of the vessel or crew. Besides her crew she had on board the Rev. Dr. O'Regan, a passenger who was to have been landed at Channel, N. F., fifteen miles distant from Ros Blanche. But the vessel never touched at the port. It is supposed that the schooner has foundered with all hands. The John Cabot was owned by John Kenney & Sons, of Borego, N. F.

McKinley Autograph Sold.

New York, Oct. 31.—The first autograph of President McKinley offered at public auction in this city since his death has just been sold by a Fifth avenue firm. It was simply his name in full, "William McKinley," written across an original cabinet photograph of him. Nevertheless, much interest was manifested by autograph collectors in the disposition of this item. After spirited bidding the autograph was secured by George D. Smith for $6.25. This indicates that McKinley's autograph at the present time commands as high a price as that of any of the presidents.

Prussia Expels J. Herrings.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—According to the local newspapers, Joseph Herrings, the German-American war correspondent who was present at the battle of Taku, has been expelled from Prussia, the ground alleged being evasion of military service a number of years ago.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist at Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy. The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale to the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by the Peoples' Drug Co. and Smith's Pharmacy."

James McGarry Laid to Rest.
